Built for the long haul.

Our short-term financing comes with a long-term relationship. Discover the advantage of knowledgeable equipment financing specialists – committed to the business of agriculture and dedicated to your success – your AgDirect team.

AgDirect serves the ag equipment industry like no other lender. Built for agriculture, AgDirect is powered by Farm Credit – available exclusively through participating associations within the Farm Credit System.

Our commitment to serving agriculture is backed by our association partners' combined assets exceeding $100 billion.

We've financed agriculture for 100 years. We know its cycles and we understand the demands of those who work in it. We build our products and services to help our customers finance the equipment they need, work for their future and grow their success.

We work to build your success, too.
